OPINION

The gall of Burma

BY THE 1980s, the question of how to manage the nation's forests was no longer a simple one. The federal government had to decide whether to continue to manage the forests for timber, or whether to manage them for other purposes, such as recreation, wildlife, and watershed protection. The answer was not clear, and the debate continued for decades.

1. Staphylococcus aureus (S. aureus) is a Gram-positive, spherical bacterium that is commonly found on the skin and in the nose of humans and animals. It is a facultative anaerobe, meaning it can grow with or without oxygen. S. aureus is known for its ability to form a protective biofilm, which makes it resistant to antibiotics and the immune system. It is a common cause of skin infections, such as abscesses and boils, and can also cause more serious infections, such as pneumonia and sepsis.

Attack on Baghdad church strikes Iraq's soul

Baghdad, Iraq (AP) — A suicide bombing Sunday night targeted a church in Baghdad, killing at least 10 people and wounding dozens, a sign of the violence that has gripped Iraq since the U.S. invasion in 2003.

The attack on the Church of the Holy Spirit, a prominent Christian church in the city, was the latest in a series of bombings targeting religious and civilian targets in Iraq.

The church was hit by a large explosion, which caused significant damage to the building. Several people were killed, and many others were injured.

The attack is seen as a direct challenge to the stability of Iraq and the lives of its citizens.

Smoke rises from a damaged building after a suicide bombing in Baghdad, Iraq, Sunday night.

The attack on the church was part of a broader campaign of violence against civilians in Iraq. The Islamic State group, which has taken control of large parts of northern and central Iraq, has been responsible for many of these attacks.

The group has declared a caliphate and has vowed to eliminate all non-Muslims from the region. Its attacks have caused a massive displacement of people and a deepening of the humanitarian crisis in Iraq.

The international community has condemned the attack and called for a swift and effective response to the violence in Iraq.

Voters set to punish Obama's Democrats

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 — As the 2010 midterm elections approach, many Democrats are bracing for a backlash against the Obama administration's policies, particularly on the issue of the war in Afghanistan.

But the administration's handling of the war in Afghanistan, particularly the surge in troops and the resulting civilian deaths, has become a major issue for voters. Many Democrats are expected to lose their seats in Congress, and the Obama administration's policies are expected to be a major factor in the outcome.

5 things you did not know about cars

By Francis Rodas

With the new year right up your nose, it's time to start planning for the year ahead. One of the most important things you can do is to make sure your car is in the best possible condition. Here are five things you may not know about cars that could save you a lot of trouble and money.

1. Check your oil regularly. Most cars have an oil change interval of 5,000 to 7,500 miles, but it's best to check your oil every 3,000 miles. Low oil levels can cause engine damage, so it's important to keep your oil at the proper level.
2. Don't forget to check your tires. Tires are one of the most important parts of your car, and they can wear out quickly if you don't take care of them. Check your tire pressure every month and rotate your tires every 5,000 miles.
3. Wash your car regularly. A clean car is not only more attractive, but it can also help protect your car's paint. Wash your car every two weeks with a mild car wash soap.
4. Don't forget to check your brakes. Brakes are one of the most important parts of your car, and they can wear out quickly if you don't take care of them. Check your brake pads and shoes every 5,000 miles.
5. Don't forget to check your battery. A car battery can last for 3 to 5 years, but it's important to check it regularly. A weak battery can cause your car to start, so it's important to make sure your battery is in good condition.

Goodbye Kookie

It's time to say goodbye to Kookie, the beloved character from the classic TV show "Beverly Hills Cop." The character, played by the late John P. Ryan, will be remembered for his witty and charming personality.

John P. Ryan

Kookie was a character that many of us grew up loving. He was a young man with a big heart and a sense of humor. His character was a perfect blend of charm and wit. We will miss his presence on the screen, but his legacy will live on in the hearts of those who loved him.
